

Index

Chapter (I): Introduction; The Translation OF Philosophical Texts,
by: Gerald Parks .....(5-22).

Chapter (II): Axiology - Theory of Values, by: Samuel L. Hart
.....(23-45).

Chapter (III): What is Political Philosophy? By: Leo Strauss
.....(46-66).

Chapter (IV): The Emotive Theory of Ethics, by: Richard B.
Brandt.....(67-88).

Chapter (V): Values And Valuing, by: Carl Mitcham (ed)
.....(89-101).

Chapter (VI): A Digest of Purposive Values; Stephen C. Pepper, by:
William K. Frankena.....(102-107).

Chapter (VII): Three Kinds of Philosophy of Religion, by: William A.
Christian .....(108-122).

Chapter (VIII): The Subject-Matter of Ethics, In: Principia Ethica,
by: G. E. Moore.....(123-152).

Chapter (IX): The Naturalistic Fallacy, by: Julia Tanner
.....(153-163).

Chapter (X): Empiricism and Rationalism, by: Edwin B.
Wilson.....(164-173).

Chapter (XI): What is Mind? by: Bertrand Russell.....
.....(174-188).

Chapter (XII): J. S. Mackenzie: The Source of Moral Obligation, by:
J. S. Mackenzie.....(189-210).

Chapter (XIII): Pragmatism, Realism, and Religion, by: Michael R.
Slater.....(211-247).

Chapter (XIV): Philosophical Terms in English.....(248-275).

Chapter (XV): English Philosophical Terms and their Arabic
Equivalents.....(276-303).

Bibliography.....(304-308).