

Questions:

Define:-

AGA:

.....

.....

.....

.....

List:-

Neuromuscular assessment of AGA includes:

- *
- *
- *
- *
- *

Physical assessment of AGA includes:

- *
- *
- *

*

*

True or false:

1-New Ballard score assesses six external physiological and six neuromuscular signs ( ).

2-To elicit the posture item, the infant is placed supine and the examiner waits until the infant settles into a relaxed or preferred posture ( ).

3-In extreme maturity, the skin lacks any lanugo ( )

4-extremely immature infants have no detectable foot creases.( )

5-The pinna of the fetal ear changes its configuration and increases in cartilage content as maturation progresses ( )

6-The right testicle precedes the left right and usually enters the scrotum during the 32nd week. ( )

Matching

The examiner straightens the infant's fingers and applies gentle pressure on the dorsum of the hand, close to the fingers.		1-Arm recoil
This maneuver tests the passive tone of the flexors about the shoulder girdle		2-Popliteal angle
This maneuver focuses on passive flexor		3-Heel to ear

tone of the biceps muscle
This maneuver assesses maturation of passive flexor tone about the knee joint		4-Scarf sign
This maneuver measures passive flexor tone about the pelvic girdle		5-Square window