

Mohamed Selim

EXPERIENCE

July 1998- 2025

▪ Assistant Professor in the Department of Philosophy, Faculty of Arts, Suhag University, Egypt, specializing in the philosophy of language and the philosophy of mind, and interested in the philosophy of artificial intelligence and digital ethics.

EDUCATION

- MA in Philosophy of Language, with a thesis titled "The Problem of Meaning between Ayer and Ryle",
- PhD in Philosophy of Mind according to Donald Davidson
- My post-doctoral research interests focused on the following areas: philosophy of science, epistemology, philosophy of artificial intelligence, digital ethics, etc.

COMMUNICATION

As an assistant professor of contemporary philosophy, I have honed my skills in teaching various philosophy courses, with over 15 years of experience teaching undergraduate and graduate students. I have extensive experience preparing and delivering lecture presentations, and I am proficient in translation and handling of English philosophical texts, translating them into Arabic, ensuring effective communication with students and academic researchers in philosophy around the world.

LEADERSHIP

I have demonstrated strong skills in teaching various philosophy courses at all four levels of the philosophy program and supervising postgraduate researchers (diploma, master's, and doctoral). I have supervised and discussed dozens of academic dissertations. I have experience providing guidance and support to students and researchers in the field of philosophy, setting performance expectations, providing feedback, and addressing problems as they arise.

REFERENCES

Available upon request.

Suhag university , Egypt

+201143956642

Sendbadco2020@gmail.com

https://staffsites.sohag-univ.edu.eg/mohamed_hefnay

OBJECTIVE

I have taught the following philosophy courses since 2009: philosophy of language, philosophy of mind, symbolic logic, and philosophy of science